COLUMBUS CATHOLIC SCHOOL NEWS

Columbus Catholic Schools has named Peter Weiss its next president, effective Monday, Oct. 19. Weiss brings experience in Catholic education, strategic planning and social justice work to the Marshfield school system.

"Through prayer and a thoughtful interview process, we are pleased to welcome Peter Weiss as the new president of Columbus Catholic Schools," said Father Dan Thelen, dean of Columbus Catholic Schools. "We look forward to his arrival and the leadership he will bring to our community. We pray that God blesses his transition and his mission to lead our students forward in faith."

"I am grateful and humbled to take on the position of president of Columbus Catholic Schools," Weiss said. "As I went through the interview process and met people from this community, it was clear that a deep faith in God and a commitment to serving students and families is what drives this system."

"I am excited to build on the strong foundation of Catholic education in Marshfield and steward the resources shared so generously to ensure that Columbus Catholic Schools continues to serve the families of this community for generations to come," he said.

Weiss comes to Columbus from the Diocese of Green Bay. Thomas Reichenbacher, superintendent of Catholic schools for the Diocese of La Crosse, who has served as Columbus's interim president during the search, said Weiss's love for the Catholic faith and his ability to listen and develop a plan make him a strong fit for the Columbus community.

Weiss's appointment follows the renewal of Columbus Catholic Schools' accreditation in 2025-26, in which the accrediting team commended the system's Catholic identity and educational programs.

Weiss will meet with faculty and staff on his first day. School leaders plan to introduce him to parents and the broader community at parent-teacher conferences and athletic events in the weeks ahead.

"As I begin this new role, I am praying for everyone in the CCS community, and I ask for your prayers for my family and me as well," Weiss said.

"Let us always pray for one another"
Pope Francis

Would you like to offer prayers for someone special?
Our next group of young people will be confirmed next September and we need prayer warriors!
This year we have 15 students from St. John the Baptist preparing for Confirmation.

At their Baptism, God made a promise to them to never lose sight of them. Would you like to pray for one of these students daily through this next year? If so, please call the parish office and you will be given a card with the first name of one of these students. It is our hope that your simple daily prayer for them will help draw them closer in friendship to God.
As Confirmation draws near, we ask that you prepare a Confirmation card telling the student that you have kept them in daily prayer. You can choose to sign it or not. On behalf of these students, we thank you!

Young Adult News: Each month we try to have multiple events, social and spiritual in nature. Young Adults is for anyone post high school - 39 years of age. Our next event is a Packer Party! Please email with questions or to let us know you would like to join us!

SJB Kid's Choir

There is still time to become a part of our youngest choir! At this time we have 13 youngsters that have joined our Children's choir!
If you are interested in your child being a part of the kids' choir, please email Megan Schirger (schirger.megan@columbusdons.org). She will send you more information as well as can answer any questions you may have.

Cherubs: Cherubs is a special time at Mass where children from the ages of 4 - 6 are invited to a lesson designed just for them. To be able to offer Cherubs, we need teachers and teacher helpers! It would be nice to have 4 or more willing adults to teach on a rotating basis. This is also an excellent opportunity for Confirmation students! If you have a gift for working with our little ones, please contact Heather Adler at 715-897-1941.

At this time we are looking for an interested individual who will coordinate the Cherubs program.
We thank Heather Adler for all the time and energy she has put into coordinating the Cherubs program. If you feel called to help us continue Cherubs, please call the parish office.

A Summer of Grace and Formation

From Our Seminarian, Luke Kaiser

Over the past several months, several formative experiences have provided opportunities to grow in living the supernatural life to which every Christian is called. The spring semester concluded with philosophy and languages. Greek and Latin do not come naturally and were challenging, but both have proven fruitful and continue to aid in liturgical and theological study. During the summer seminary gathering, these ancient languages came alive in a particular way. Greek and Latin verses throughout various religious orders and seminaries, alongside beautiful sacred artwork, offered a striking glimpse of the universality of the Church. The same faith is proclaimed, prayed, studied, and handed down across languages, cultures, and generations. Traveling with brother seminarians also provided a treasured opportunity to experience the fraternity that comes from following Christ together.

Another grace came through time spent in Omaha, Nebraska, studying and praying with St. Ignatius's Rules for Discernment at Creighton University. This prayerful experience provided an opportunity to grow in discernment while spending time with more than one hundred seminarians entering Configuration I. A particular highlight was encountering Christ through Lectio Divina during a nine-day silent retreat.

One image that became especially meaningful in prayer was that of the potter and the clay. Since pottery is a favorite hobby, the image carries particular significance, but its deeper beauty lies in the reminder that God is continually forming His children. Even when the clay appears imperfect or marred, the potter does not abandon it but patiently continues to shape it according to his purpose. The same is true of the Christian life: Christ does not wait for perfection before beginning His work. He patiently forms, corrects, strengthens, and reshapes the soul according to His loving will. The following passage offers a beautiful opportunity for prayer:

A Summer of Grace and Formation

"This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord: 'Go down to the potter's house, and there I will give you my message.' So I went down to the potter's house, and I saw him working at the wheel. But the pot he was shaping from the clay was marred in his hands; so the potter formed it into another pot, shaping it as seemed best to him. Then the word of the Lord came to me. He said, 'Can I not do with you, Israel, as this potter does?' declares the Lord. 'Like clay in the hand of the potter, so are you in my hand, Israel.'"
— Jeremiah 18:1–6

One great grace of the summer was the reception of Candidacy. Through the Rite of Candidacy, the Church offered a significant affirmation of continued discernment toward Holy Orders. Entering Configuration I provides a renewed opportunity to seek the Lord's will and allow Christ to form the heart according to His purposes. Ultimately, discernment is less about determining what one will accomplish and more about recognizing where Christ is calling and becoming willing to follow Him.

The summer also provided time for leisure and recreation before another year of formation. A camping trip to Glacier National Park offered an opportunity to enjoy one of God's great gifts in creation. Over eight days, about 88 miles of hiking brought time among the beauty and vastness of the Rocky Mountains. The quiet trails, majesty of the mountains, and fraternity shared with brother seminarians offered a welcome reminder that creation can lift the heart toward its Creator. These moments of rest and wonder helped prepare the heart to return to studies with renewed gratitude.

This semester brings studies in Scripture, Fundamental Theology, Sacred Liturgy, Church History, and several other areas. One of the greatest blessings has been seeing how study can become prayer when it leads more deeply into the mystery of Christ. Learning how Calvary is made present in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, for example, has deepened devotion to the words, "Do this in remembrance of me." What can easily become a familiar phrase is, in reality, an invitation to encounter the sacrifice of Christ made present upon the altar.

These experiences continue to reveal that formation is not simply about gaining knowledge or preparing for future ministry. It is about allowing Christ to shape the whole person. Through study, prayer, fraternity, recreation, silence, and the ordinary experiences of daily life, encountering the Lord continues to form the heart for greater love. The clay remains in the hands of the Potter, and the hope is simply to remain there, allowing Christ to make of it what He desires. Know that you are in my prayers.
